

On Site Backup

While off site backup is a recommended necessity for any business, having a good on site backup is even more crucial. We have found that having both an on site and off site backup solution creates an ideal scenario of multiple backups combined with the ability to restore very quickly from an on site in house hard drive based backup in the event of deleted files or non-natural disaster related physical failure. Our on site backup system includes both the hard drive and specialized backup software based on your company's needs. Both the hardware and software come at an additional price, however setup is included with your monthly service agreement and is recommended for all companies regardless of size.
